

VILLA CITRI

THIRD FLOOR

The third story of the Villa Citri and its estate.

OUTSIDE

1. MURI MAGNI PARAPET

The open-to-the-sky crenellated rooftop walkway of the Great Walls can be accessed through arched doorways from the corner and gatehouse towers. Metal doors protect the towers from intruders. Stairs ascend to the rooftops of the corner and gatehouse towers.

2. PORTAE TURRES

The upper stories of the gatehouse towers have spiral staircases descending to the second floor, and arched doorways providing access to the parapet. It also provides access to the Porta Rampart, a parapet over the gates.

3. PORTA RAMPART

A parapet over the gates from which guards can address visitors to the villa.

4. TURRIM CUBICULI

The chamber at the top of the corner towers. Each has a staircase that descends to the second floor and arched doorways that provide access to the Great Wall's parapets.

5. GRADUS SUPERIORES

Staircases that ascend from the crenellated parapets to the rooftops of corner and gatehouse towers.

BALNEAE

6. SCALAE GRAECAE

Walled staircase that descends to the second floor.

7. HORREUM CENACULUM

An attic used primarily for storage.

8. CAMINI

The chimney venting smoke from the hypocaust's furnace.

VILLA

9. VIRIDI RESIDENTIAE

The "Green Apartments," so named for the color of the tiled floor, is one of the two luxury suites. In prior generations, the Lord and Lady of the villa sometimes maintained separate residences. This suite is currently used by the Earl of Westford when he visits his mother.

10. VIRIDIS VESTIBULUM

An outer reception area for the Green Apartments.

11. VIRIDIS ZOTHECA

A private lounge and dining area for the Green Apartments.

12. VIRIDIS BIBLIOTHECA

An office and small library.

13. MAGNUS CUBICULUM

The main bedroom for the Green Apartments.

14. CAERULEUM RESIDENTIAE

The "Blue Apartments" are named for the blue tiles on the floor. Unlike the Viridi Residentiae, the floors here are heated. The Dowager Countess of Westford occupies this suite as her own residence.

15. CALIDUCT

Hot air from the hypocausts vents from here to heat the floors of the apartment,

16. CAERULEUM VESTIBULUM

An outer reception room for the Blue Apartments.

17. CAERULEUM ZOTHECA

A private lounge and dining area for the Blue Apartments.

18. CAERULEUM BIBLIOTHECA

An office and small library.

19. MAGNUS CUBICULUM

The main bedroom for the Blue Apartments.